TWO TRIPS ACROSS

Lester D. Ingerson Tells of Voyages To England and France.

Writing from City Park Barracks, Brooklyn, where he is at present serving with the U. S. Armed Guard Detail, Lester D. Ingerson, of Rockland, tells of two successful voyages across the Atlantic, and of his ambition to make more. Following are a few extracts from his interesting letter:

Our first trip was to England. It took us 19 days to cross, with a convoy of 25 ships. We sailed in column formation of seven ships abreast and seven columns, the odd one was a cruiser. We were the third ship in the second column until we were in Latitude 39 and then one of the ships fell out and the ship ahead of us took her place. That put us up second.

We were zig-zagging all the way, as the German subs were reported all around us. When we reached a certain point destroyers picked us up. There were six English and seven American destroyers. We continued to zig-zag. About two days after we were with the destroyers we split the convoy up and proceeded to our destinations.

May 4 we dropped anchor in Plymouth. We lay out in the stream from 3 p. m. until Sunday May 5 at 40.30 and then the tug took us alongside the dock. We were at the dock for three days. The armed guard commander granted us shore liberty. We were paid $10 in our money, which we exchanged into English, giving us two pounds.

At the American Y. M. C. A. we booked our rooms for the night, and started to take in the sights. The first place we struck for was a large park by the water front. We then went through the oldest lighthouse in the world, which was built way back in the sixteenth century. It is lighted by candles.

We saw the Bowling Green where Sir Francis Drake was bowling when they told him the Spanish fleet was coming. He finished his game and then went out and met the Spanish Armada.

My last shore liberty was spent at the dock where the Pilgrims left on the Mayflower.

Our second trip was of the same description only we went to France. We carried the same cargo. We laid in port a whole week loading the American destroyers.

We were granted shore liberty. While in a cafe one afternoon, I met Lieut. Commander Reuben K. Dyer of Portland, who was in charge of the three militia divisions of Maine. We had a long talk, and he said that Lieut. Dyer was to port on a submarine chaser, but as we only had one more day there I did not get over to see him.

While loading different destroyers I thought of Willard Hatch on the Porter. One day she came along side for oil, I looked up and found him in the best of health and looking fine. He sends his regards to all the folks at home.

There are four or five branches of the American Y. M. C. A. in the French port we visited: I suppose they have to have a lot as our boys are there and those are about the only places they can go to. There are many of our telephone and Red Cross girls there, too.

July 15—While steaming along at the rate of nine knots an hour we were overtaken by one of our large transports, which was returning from Europe. She passed us and sighted a submarine which submerged at the sight of her. The transport changed her course and gave us warning, so we changed our course. I think if that transport had not been there we would have run right into danger.

SEA SERVICE BUREAU

By Which Graduates of Navigation Schools Are Shipped For Sea Duty.

One of the important new departments of the United States Shipping Board Recruiting Service is the Sea Service Bureau.

All graduates of the schools in navigation and engineering maintained by the Recruiting Service are shipped for sea duty through this bureau.

Experienced seamen, engineers, cooks and stewards seeking an opportunity to serve at sea are helped to a berth by this bureau.

Not the least important of the bureau's activities is its inspection service, recently established for the purpose of insuring proper living conditions on American merchant ships.

In the work of this inspection service the bureau has the hearty cooperation of the steamship owners, who operate their vessels under the direction and authority of the Shipping Board.

The law is specific as to certain conditions under which Jack shall be housed when afloat but in the recent hurry of wartime voyages and through nobody's fault in particular, forecasts sometimes have been allowed to fall below the sanitary standard prescribed by law.

With its force of inspectors at work, examining each ship as she arrives from a voyage, it is possible for the Sea Service Bureau to note conditions that are not up to the standard, and advise their correction.

Builders are proud of the crews' quarters on the new American ships, and with the owners of existing ships doing everything in their power to aid the Sea Service Bureau inspection work, it is hoped that American merchant ships will soon establish a standard for the vessels of other nations to follow in the matter of comfortable quarters for crews.

If our soldier boys deliberated as long over doing their duty as some of our people at home hesitate over doing theirs, the victory would be doubtful. It is a sort of financial cowardice to hesitate to put your money in United States Government securities, and to deliberate over the wisdom and patriotism of the investment is to hesitate in supporting our soldiers.

THE KNOX COUNTY BOY

If he should meet a mother there,
Along some winding Flanders road,
No extra touch of grief or care
He'll add unto her heavy load;
But he will kindly take her arm
And tender as her son would be
He'll lead her from the path of harm,
Because of me.

Be she the mother of his foe
He will not speak to her in hate;
My boy will never stoop so low
As motherhood to desecrate,
But she shall know what once I knew:
Eyes that are glorious to see,
The light of manhood shining through,
Because of me.

He will salute her as they meet
And stand before her, bare of head;
If she be hungry she may eat
His last remaining bit of bread.
She'll find those splendid arms and strong,
Quick to assist her, tenderly,
And they will guard her from all wrong,
Because of me.

I miss his thoughtful, loving care,
I miss his smile these dreary days,
But should he meet a mother there,
Helpless and lost in war's grim maze,
She need not fear to take his arm,
As though she'd reared him at her knee.
My son will shield her from all harm,
Because of me.

AUBURNDALE SUMMER SCHOOL

Miss Carolyn E. Robinson of Rockport, who is attending summer school at Lasell Seminary, writes to The Courier-Gazette:

Auburdale is one of Boston's most beautiful suburbs, ten miles from the city, giving an hour's ride by trolley through Brookline. The home of the Eastern Summer School is Cushman Hall. There is a large attendance this year. Osbourne McConathy, Director of Music at Northwestern University, Cranston, Ill., is the superintendent, with Miss Bessie Salmon as assistant.

The home life of the students and faculty is one of the delightful features. The evening recitals are very enjoyable. Last Tuesday evening's program was made up of pipe organ, piano, cornet, violin, vocal solos, readings and orchestral selections. These last being presented by students in the summer school orchestra, including three first violins, three second violins, cornet, cello, pipe organ and piano.

Misses Anna Quisley of Camden and Carolyn Robinson of Rockport have the pleasure of being two of the members, each playing violins.

School Methods, harmony, chorus conducting, sight reading, folk dancing and drawing are on the every-day program. Every student is given thorough knowledge of how public school music should be taught. One learns to be able to criticize the public school teaching of music, as there are practice teaching lessons given daily by some of the leading teachers of the day.

A delightful recreation for the students is canoeing on the Charles, and Saturday spent in historic Boston.

Carolyn E. Robinson.

BEEN ON MEXICAN BORDER

But Sergeant Ralph E. Cline Expects To Get Into the Big Game, Across.

A former Spruce Head boy, who is soon going across with one of the crack regiments of the regular Army, is Sergeant Ralph E. Cline.

When this country declared war he was working at his trade as engineer in Detroit, Mich. He enlisted in the regular Army in Portland and was went to the Mexican border, where he has been serving his apprenticeship as a practical soldier.

Sergeant Cline is a member of Co. B, 10th Infantry, and is now stationed at Camp MacArthur, Waco, Texas. The regiment is expected to make a name for itself over there, and it is very certain that when the war crosses are passed around he will be pinned out to the Spruce Head boy.

HAS SEEN FIVE COUNTRIES

And Sergeant Kenneth A. Wood Says He's Going To See Another, Against Wishes Of His Present Ruler.

"We not half bad off over here," writes Sergeant Kenneth A. Wood to Mrs. L. H. Duncan of 20 Camden street. The following extracts from his letter will be read with interest.

Our trip was a corker, three days and four nights. The old boat tried to turn over. Sometimes I think she was pro-german, and tried to dump the boys all so sick that they would jump overboard. But it takes more than old Neptune to really scare a Yankee. I saw some beautiful scenery. I have seen the scenery here from all angles, except from the air, and I hope to get up in an airplane before long so that I may see it from there.

I have been through, or have seen, parts of five countries, and there is one more country that I am going to see before we get back, and against the wishes of the present ruler, too. I have taken one trip (in line of duty) since I have been here and while away I saw some very interesting sights.

Our first month here made us think they called France "sunny" because it wasn't, but for the last month or more we have had only one rainy day. The climate isn't like our good old Maine though. Here it is very damp when it is cold and dry as a chip when it is warm, with no air between. I will be happy when they say: "Home, boys, home," but we have our bit to do before they say it. We get good food and have good quarters.

The Y. M. C. A.'s furnish us entertainment and also run "canteens" and a store where we can buy cigarettes, tobacco, candy, etc., and last but not least foreign editions of our own American papers. They get Saturday Evening Post for us; and then our mail from home. We get mail as a rule, every Sunday. Mail from the boys already over here we get almost every day. So you see we are not half bad off. I am working at Headquarters of my regiment now. Remember me to all my friends and tell them to drop a line to me. I surely would like to hear from them.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

THE PHANTOM

Again I sit within the mansion,
In the old familiar seat;
And shade and sunshine chase each other
O'er the carpet at my feet.
But the sweetest of all memories
In summers that are past,
And the willow trails its branches lower
Than when I saw them last.

They strive to shut the sunshine wholly
From out the haunted room,
To fill the house, that once was joyful,
With silence and with gloom.
And many kind, remembered faces
Within the doorway come,
Voices, that wake the sweetest music
Of one that now is dumb.

They sing, in tones as glad as ever,
The songs she loved to hear;
They build the rose in summer garlands,
Whose flowers to her were dear.
And still her footsteps in the passage,
Her blisses at the door,
Her kind words of maiden welcome,
Come back to me once more.

And all forgetful of my sorrow,
Unmindful of my pain,
I think she has but newly left me,
And soon will come again.
She stays without, perchance a moment,
To dress her dark brown hair;
I hear the rustle of her garments,
Her light step on the stair.

O fluttering heart, control thy tumult,
Lest eyes profane should see
My cheeks betray the rush of rapture
Her coming brings to me!
She carries long, but in a whisper
Beyond the open door,
And gliding through the quiet sunshine,
A shadow on the floor!

Ah, 'tis the whispering pine that calls me,
The time whose shadow stays;
And my patient heart must still await her,
Nor chide her long delays.
But my heart grows sick with weary waiting,
As many a time before:
Her foot is over the threshold,
Yet never pauses o'er.

—Bayard Taylor.

THE TRIUMPHANT ALLIES

The splendid work now being done by the Allied forces is a source of rejoicing wherever the desire for world democracy is cherished. The Franco-American forces appear to have cornered the army of the Crown Prince, and the capture of a large portion of the latter seems inevitable at this time. The Huns, drunk with the temporary success of previous drives, seem to have been caught in a trap of their own making, with their only means of exit under steady artillery fire. This morning's despatches say that the Americans have killed or wounded 250,000 of the Huns, and all Europe stands amazed at the courage and ferocity shown in the Yankee drive. On the other side of the ledger this week is recorded the sinking of a Gloucester fishing schooner by a U-boat off Cape Porpoise.

Senator Hale has been successful in piloting through the upper House his bill to create the Mount Desert National Park in this State. Securing a favorable moment in the proceedings of the Senate he obtained unanimous consent for its consideration and the bill was passed without encountering any opposition. The Senator was careful to incorporate in the measure a provision that moneys heretofore appropriated for the Seaside National Monument, included in the new park, shall be available for the improvement of the park. The adoption of that language will permit of the use of $10,000 allotted for the monument in the recent sundry civil appropriation bill. The Maine delegation in the House is expected to look after Senator Hale's bill in that body, and its early enactment into law is expected.

The people will stand behind Governor Milliken in every decision that he makes to enforce the State laws. When the ear is assailed by violent shouting, investigation is likely to disclose the fact that it is the law-breaker, or the man profiting from his law-breaking, who is making the noise, and it is because his source of illegal gain is being interfered with. If the Governor has decided to suppress lawless Sunday traffic at Old Orchard we may easily believe that the determination is based upon grounds wholesome to the general public, and we may equally be satisfied that he will succeed in what he has started out to do.

Every time Knox county turns out at the railroad station to say Goodspeed to the boys bound for camp the spirit of patriotism enlarges. Every additional home that flies a service flag forms another link in the great chain that binds our hearts together in the common purpose to set the world free.

Honduras is a little country, it is true, but its declaration of war upon Germany is one more toward making it unanimous. And the more on that side, the easier it will be to put the Hun in his proper place when peace terms come to be drawn.

Rockland's third season of Chautauqua has brought some exceedingly entertaining features, notably speakers of high culture, and the large attendance has testified to the interest our people have come to take in this popular summer institution.

THE PULOS REWARD

Five Persons Share the $100 Offered for the Capture of Escaped Convict.

Arthur J. Clark of Union directs attention to some inaccuracies which occurred in the newspaper reports of the capture of the convict, Louis Pulos, and disclaims any direct part in the affair. The active participants, Mr. Clark says, were Mrs. Arthur J. Clark, Charles E. Frazier and William F. Davis, who received $25 each of the reward of $100, the other $25 being equally divided between Mrs. Grace M. Barker, who was the means of getting Mr. Davis to the scene of action, and who telephoned from East Union, and Mrs. Mason Tolman of East Warren, who first reported the convict's presence in the vicinity of Mt. Pleasant, and who talked with Pulos Tuesday night. Pulos passed Tuesday night in the Clark pasture and saw the prison auto pass twice. He was taken in Mrs. Clark's kitchen, after eating his fill.

A HUSKY KNOX CONTINGENT

Draftees Who Left This Morning Are Bound To Strike Terror To the Huns—Draft Age Limits Are Again Under Discussion.

Thirty-four stalwart sons of Knox county—and a stalwart is just the word—left this morning for Camp Devens, every mother's son of them itching to join the triumphant Allied forces, which are now clutching at the Crown Prince's windpipe over in France.

Postmaster Donohue and his loyal postoffice staff acted as escort, together with members of the Local Draft Board, and there was a good-sized crowd on hand to say good-bye to the soldiers in embryo.

The words of parting were said by Rev. Howard A. Welch, pastor of the Littlefield Memorial church, and his eloquent remarks stirred the audience to a high pitch of enthusiasm. "You are going away," said the speaker, "to help build an army even greater than was anticipated. Even though there is a note of sadness on this occasion, there is also a note of joy, because you are offering your services and lives to the greatest cause that ever was. By your services and your sacrifices, you are going to say to the Kaiser, 'We'll never let our old flag fall.' Be confident that you will always have the interest, sympathy and love of those who are left behind. We say, not good-bye, but au revoir, God bless you, and keep you, is our prayer and hope."

The cheers asked for by G. B. Butler, chairman of the Local Draft Board, were again given with right good will. The Knox county quota was in charge of Lieut. Edward Fitzgerald, U. S. A. Edgar C. Maddocks of Camden was selected as leader of the contingent, his assistants being Donald P. George, Arthur L. Cook and Frank Brown.

Knox county was asked to furnish 41 men under this call, but using a fine-tooth comb the Local Board was able to get only 35. Fred Marshall of Rockport will entrain from Fall River. Those who left Rockland this morning are:

Thomas M. Anderson, Rockport
Joseph A. Blake, Rockport
Edwin S. A. Baird, Hope
Frank H. Brown, Vinalhaven
Ralph L. Brown, Vinalhaven
Elwin G. Brann, Washington
Arthur L. Cook, St. George

Richard E. Sowers, Vinalhaven
Charles A. Studley, Rockport
Frank O. Smith, Rockland
Reuben O. Smith, Vinalhaven
George P. Wotton, Friendship
Edward C. Walker, Rockland
Oscar V. Young, Cushing

The following limited service draftees will be sent Monday morning to Syracuse, N. Y., and later will be assigned to guard duty at points of embarkation.

Albert E. Heal, Union
Frank S. Lydie, Rockland
John C. Knowles, Rockland
William G. Williams, Rockland
Eddie W. Farmer, Rockland
Pearl S. Hilton, Warren
Walter M. Payson, Phillips
Everett H. Benner, Thomaston

Two draftees from the 1918 class will be sent to Fort Slocum on the morning of Aug. 5. They have not yet been selected. Knox county's three colored draftees, whose names were published in our Tuesday issue, will leave on the same afternoon for Camp Devens.

WAS ON PERTH AMBOY

Assistant Engineer Hollis Pettingill Tells of His Experiences While Under Fire From German Submarine.

"I hope I will have an opportunity to get at least one crack at the Germans before the war is over," declares Hollis Pettingill, late assistant engineer of the tug Perth Amboy.

When the U-boat attacked the Lehigh Valley craft off Chatham, Mass., last Sunday forenoon, the tug's crew made a very hasty departure, leaving all their effects on board save the clothing in which they stood. Among other things Mr. Pettingill lost his valuable gold watch.

"The first shot fired by the submarine struck about 500 feet short of the Perth Amboy," said Mr. Pettingill to The Courier-Gazette reporter. "The next shot passed over the tug, striking in the water some distance beyond. The third shot crashed directly into the pilot house, setting it afire. Capt. Tapley was lying down in the pilot house, and with him at the time were the second mate and a deckhand. All told there were 17 men on board."

"We lost no time in lowering the life boat and inside of eight minutes every man was in it. The submarine kept up its bombardment as we made for the shore, and must have fired as many as 40 or 50 shots. Each shot sounded with a sharp explosion. There was no panic among the crew, and no excitement of any kind. I felt worse about the Austrian members of the crew whose arm had been crushed by one of the shots, than I did about the danger we were in. The captain, cook and mess boy were slightly injured. The ship's engine room was around us."

"Those Coast Guard fellows are some chaps," said Mr. Pettingill, referring to the splendid manner in which the Perth Amboy's crew was treated by them. Capt. Robert Pierce proved to be an old acquaintance of the Rockland man, and did everything in his power to make the U-boat victims feel at home.

The tug was towed into Vineyard Haven after the bombardment, and the crew went aboard, but the fire had destroyed all of the men's effects. "This is the second time I have been done up by Germans," said Mr. Pettingill. "The first time was 23 or 24 years ago. I was in a mackerel fisherman off the Nova Scotia Gapes when a German steamship cut us squarely in two. I landed in Boston wearing on one foot a wooden shoe which one of the Germans had loaned me. I still have it as a souvenir."

Mr. Pettingill will remain at home until he receives orders from the Lehigh Valley Company.

On the morning of Aug. 15 nine men will be sent to Wrentham Institute, Boston to prepare for special duties. Artemus Tibbels and James Sullivan of Rockland have volunteered for this duty.

The Local Draft Board has received orders to refer to the District Board all men who have been given deferred classification because they are employed in woolen mills.

Wilson R. Foster of Thomaston, who was to have left with the Knox county contingent this morning, had the misfortune to cut one of his feet a few days ago, and his departure is deferred until he is in better marching trim.

DRAFT AGE LIMITS

More Than Likely That They Will Soon Be Raised and Lowered.

The draft age limits are going up as well as down, and the Government is preparing to increase the army to a strength of 5,000,000 men.

These will be mainly men without dependents, and every one of them will be sent to France, if necessary, to vanquish the Hun. The Government does not complete the invasion of the deferred classifications of the draft for at least two years, if at all. There will be, however, an increasingly rigorous combing of the deferred classifications for men to take places in essential war industries. The work or night order will be extended to many additional occupations within the next year.

The plan for the 5,000,000 army will be presented to Congress within the next six weeks according to the War Department.

"When Congress reconvenes," Secretary Baker said Tuesday, "I shall present a plan which will involve increased appropriations, modifications of the draft age, and somewhat larger mobilization of our military forces. The question as to the draft age limits is being studied to determine how we can get the necessary number of men with the least interference with the industries of the country."

Secretary Baker said he would recommend definite age limits, lowering the minimum below 21 and raising the maximum above 31. The age limits which have been under consideration are 18 to 45, but Secretary Baker previously has recommended 19 as the minimum, as the draft age and may adopt that minimum as well as the maximum short of 45.

If the draft age limits are made 19 to 45, it is estimated that 3,000,000 men will be made available for military service.

AMENDS ARMY RESTRICTIONS

Minimum Height Reduced To Five Feet and Weight To 140 Pounds.

The War Department has again amended the physical examination regulations concerning minimum height and weight requirements so the minimum height for selective registrants is 60 inches and the minimum weight is 140 pounds, according to a telegram received by Adjutant General George McL. Presson, the provost marshal of Maine from Gen. E. H. Crowder provost marshal general. The telegram further says:

"Registrants who on examination are found to present the following defects shall be unconditionally rejected for military service:

"(a) Less than 60 inches in height, except for insular troops.
"(b) Less than 140 pounds in weight, except for insular troops, unless it is plainly due to some recent illness or to employment and environment of civil life which is considered remediable by camp life.
"(c) The term 'insular troops' means troops who are selected in Hawaii and Porto Rico and does not mean troops raised in the states for insular service."

CHAPLAIN VAN DYKE HERE

Noted Author and Ambassador Speaks To the Rockland Naval Reserve.

If Rockland people had known that Henry van Dyke, the eminent divine, poet-author and recent ambassador to Holland was to speak here, the barracks at the Naval Training Station would scarcely have contained the crowd that would like to have gathered to hear him. As it was, above 100 persons from the city and the Somerset expressed the ringing and eloquent address which Dr. van Dyke, in his capacity of naval chaplain (with rank of lieutenant commander) made to the men of the Naval Reserves last evening.

Dr. van Dyke's visit here was in line with the four that he has made of the entire country, speaking at all the naval stations. As is well known, he resigned his high position as American Ambassador to the Hague, after serving with much distinction through the delicate period of the first three years of the great war.

"I wanted to get home," he said last night. "I had things I wanted to say about Germany, things that I couldn't say as a diplomat."

But he is saying them now all right! "I am proud to be a chaplain in the Navy," he declared. "I have a roving commission, I have been to the Pacific coast and all over meeting these naval boys of ours, and I never saw in the world a finer bunch of young men. The American Navy or Army is the best place in the world for a boy to get an education."

Dr. van Dyke scored Germany for the unspeakable crime of the war—"made by the Predatory Pots-DAM Gang," he said, giving point to this phrase, which is his invention and which has passed into our common speech. No more report can give any idea of the directness, the eloquence and force of the address, delivered out of a heart that burns with American patriotism and is moved with hatred of German atrocities, some of which he detailed out of his own knowledge. "America For Me!" he said, and had on his lips the ringing poem with that title which he gave to the world, but withheld it, thinking he had spoken long enough—but The Courier-Gazette adds it.

Dr. van Dyke was given a great ovation at the beginning and close of his address and was loudly applauded at frequent intervals. He was introduced by Lieut. Kidd, commander at the station. Many persons were presented to him at the conclusion of the address. Dr. van Dyke was a guest at the Somerset and left today for Portland. This is the famous poem that he omitted last night:

This fine to see the Old World, and travel up and down
Among the famous palaces and cities of renown,
To admire the crumbly castles and the statues of the kings—
But now I think I've got enough of antiquated things.

So this home again, and home again, America for me!
My heart is burning home again, and there I long to be.
In the land of youth and freedom beyond the ocean bar,
Where the air is full of sunlight and the flag is full of stars.

Oh, London is a man's town, there's power in her hair,
And Paris is a woman's town, with flowers in her hair,
And it's sweet to dream in Venice, and it's great to study Rome;
But when it comes to living, there's no place like home.

I like the German fir-trees, in green battalions drilled;
I like the gardens of Versailles, with flashing fountains filled;
But, oh, to take your hand, my dear, and ramble for a day
In the friendly Western woodland where Nature has her way!

I know that Europe's wonderful, yet something seems to lack;
The Past is too much with her, and the people lack the glory of the Present is to make the Future free.
We love our land for what she is and what she is to be.

Oh, it's home again, and home again, America for me!
I want a ship that's westward bound to plough the rolling sea,
To the affair, which appeared in New York newspapers, was far from accurate, as I viewed the situation."

When the collier reached Handkerchief Shoals the sound of heavy gunfire was heard and the craft put back to Vineyard Haven, where it other colliers lay at anchor. Later the tug Perth Amboy was towed in, and to use Mr. Beaton's language the victim of the U-boat was "a sight."

The collier was nearing Portland at twilight when a number of small boats were sighted. With the aid of glasses we could see that one of them contained men, who were waving their arms wildly. The boats were picked up, and one was found to have on board 11 of the crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner Robert and Richard, which had been sunk by a submarine off Cape Porpoise. The survivors were transferred to the coal steamer Snug Harbor, an d taken to Portland.

Mr. Beaton rejoined his collier yesterday, wondering what the next trip will bring forth.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Robinson received word Saturday that their son, Musician Ernest H. Robinson of the 24th Infantry Regimental Band had arrived safely overseas.

WAS AN EXCITING TRIP

Joseph Beaton Tells How Collier Picked Up Survivors of Cruiser San Diego—In Path of Other Submarine Activities.

Colliers, engaged in the coastwise trade, are not credited with having a very romantic existence, yet when the T. P. Jones docked at Portland Tuesday night she had passed through enough exciting scenes to furnish the scenario for a gripping five reel feature.

A Rockland man, Joseph B. Beaton, was aboard of her in the capacity of first assistant engineer. The collier left Baltimore two men shy in the forenoon, and Mr. Beaton and another engineer pulled off their coats and helped keep the furnaces ablaze.

Because of this incident the T. P. Jones happened along the Long Island coast last Friday in season to rescue from the water 78 men who had jumped overboard from the Cruiser San Diego after that ship had become the victim of a mine or submarine. "It seemed as if everybody was in the water," says Mr. Beaton. "We went to their assistance as fast as steam could take us, and dropped our lifeboats at 1.15 p. m. The story of the affair, which appeared in New York newspapers, was far from accurate, as I viewed the situation."

Business

Interest on unpaid taxes begins next Thursday.

Yankee Temple, Pythian Sisters, will give a picnic at Oakland Park next Wednesday.

Leicester Luther Polard of Killbuck is spending his vacation in the city.

James Thistle has arrived at a friend's home, news having been received this week by his wife.

John Robinson, who has been employed at Parmenter's shoe store, has returned the employ of L. E. Buckington.

The Sons of Veterans' Auxiliary is having its first meeting a month from the heated spell—the first Wednesday.

James Pollock of the U. S. S. Westcott is home from Napa, Mass., on a 5-day furlough while the craft undergoes repairs.

Rev. Philip A. Allen enters upon his summer vacation next week, and the church will be closed until after Labor Day. Services will be held as usual on coming Sunday.

George E. Newbert, the genial driver of St. John & Allen's motor delivery, is back at the helm, after an enforced vacation of two weeks, due to an injury which he received to his back.

Dr. Tyler W. Spear has been re-commissioned as lieutenant in the Dental Corps of the Navy. Dr. Spear, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Spear of Middle Street, has been practicing dentistry in Portland.

George P. Watson was initiated by Knox Lodge of Odd Fellows Monday night, and there will be work on the lodge degree next Monday night. To-night the lodge will have a drill meeting for work on the first.

Summer Charles Guttridge, C. F. A., and Mrs. A. A. Rideout of Boston will address shipworkers at the Cobb yard at 1220 today, under the direction of the national service section of the U. S. Shipping Board's Emergency Fleet Corporation. Gunner Guttridge, who is 31, served with the Canadian forces in the first year of the war, and was wounded 13 times. A full report of the meeting will appear in our Tuesday issue.

Harper News-Jack Fitzgerald, the former L. of M. law school boy, who was a varsity football man on the Maine team, and a prominent basketball player, was in Bangor Saturday and Sunday on a furlough from Rockland, where he is stationed in the naval reserve force. He was accompanied by Kenneth Colbath, a member of the class of 1919 at the University of Maine, who is now a warrant officer in the navy.

A passing automobile picked up a go-karted stone on Main street Tuesday afternoon and drove it with Alderbury accuracy through one of the large plate glass windows of the Burpee Furniture Store. Edgar A. Burpee, who was on the point of entering the store, was a seasoned Civil War veteran, otherwise he might well have been excused for jumping a foot or two when the crash took place at his elbow. The plate glass was insured in Arthur L. Tim's agency.

Rev. Col. C. H. French Sunday evening at 7:30 at the First Baptist church gave his beautifully illustrated lecture on "The Gods, Divinities, and Idols of the World." Admission free. Two hundred colored slides.

Three big acts of vandalism will be presented at Park Theatre today and Wednesday afternoon and evening, in connection with the picture program.

Miss Minnie Andrews has been notified from Washington, D. C., that she has passed a civil service examination with a rank of 100 per cent.

"When a Man Sees Red," which will be shown at Park Theatre today and tomorrow, is one of the strongest pictures in which William Farnum has ever appeared.

Gray, the pond lily king, is again on the job. He has been dispensing the fragrant blossoms so many years that the writer has lost track of them. He's always welcome.

Some 40 Naval Reserves arrived from Boston last night, and marched to the Training Station. It is unofficially reported that 100 more Reserves are coming here soon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Shapiro received a telegram this morning announcing the safe arrival overseas of their son Morris Shapiro, who is with the 302d Division Co. K.

Clerk of Courts Combs yesterday issued his 9th license for the handling of explosives, such permission being necessary under a ruling made since the war began. Several applications have been refused.

There will be a union prayer service at the Congregational church Tuesday evening, followed by a patriotic address by Mrs. Arabella Wood Wilson, formerly of Camden, superintendent of the Department of Soldiers and Sailors for Massachusetts. The meeting will be under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. and the offering will go toward the purchase of electric fans for the hospitals.

Bids for the property of the Rockland, South Thomaston & St. George Railway were opened Tuesday noon at the office of the receiver, S. T. Kimball. The number of bids, and the amounts named therein were not made public, as it was the receiver's first duty to make a report to the Supreme Court, under whose instructions he is working. It is fair to presume that the public will not be long left in ignorance as to what disposition is to be made of the road.

The Grosvenor Beach House, under the management of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Smith, entertained a large number of patrons at the informal opening last Sunday. The new proprietors had been there too short a time to arrange the facilities to their satisfaction, but the patrons did not like evidence that the cuisine and service will be of the highest order during the balance of the season. There will be a formal opening of the hotel next month. Meanwhile all owners are finding their wants satisfactorily attended to.

When it comes to encouraging real enthusiasm in gardening one doesn't need to go any further than the fertile piece of ground planted and personally conducted by Blanchard B. Smith of his Lincoln street residence. The standard things of the home garden are flourishing amazingly, among them nine separate kinds of lettuce, so abundantly produced as to supply the homes of the neighborhood. The health of the growing things, and the entire absence of weeds testify to the enthusiasm which Mr. Smith has brought to this practical form of summer recreation.

Rockland people recall with pleasure the great and popular success of the Blada spectacle, "Dead Blud," given in this city last winter by the Methodist church. In response to suggestions from many sources that the performance have a repetition, the management and the large company of performers expressed their readiness to duplicate their services at some later period for the benefit of Red Cross, and the announcement is now made that there will be two performances at Park Theatre, Aug. 28 and 29, with the full cast, costumes and accessories, under the musical and stage direction as before of Rev. Melville Ellsworth Osborne. The Knox County Chapter of American Red Cross has charge of the affair, the proceeds of which will enrich its treasury. The public will warmly welcome the announcement and give it equally warm support.

Mrs. Joseph Hamlin of 55 Gay street received a telegram yesterday, stating that her son Lawrence J. Hamlin had been operated upon for pleurisy. The surgeon's report stated that he was "doing nicely."

At the Littlefield Memorial church Sunday night the 7:15 o'clock service will include the unveiling of a service flag, special music, recitations, etc. The choir will render "Dear Flag of Our Country," and the solo and chorus "The Mother of a Soldier."

One of the best home gardens in Rockland is to be found at the corner of Water and Laurel streets, and the sole manager thereof is Henry C. Day. Henry has heard so many words of praise about it that he is thinking of running for Secretary of Agriculture.

Reize's 57 varieties are all right so far as pickles are concerned, but you should see Alfred Murray's 47 varieties of poppies which are now in full bloom near his Cresson street cottage. They represent all colors of the rainbow, and are of all sizes. Pretty sight.

The Custom House block, owned by the Rockland and North National banks and Mrs. Annie Burkman, will soon present a solid front of red. The store of C. A. Rose & Co., which has been known for some years as the "White Front Store," and the Rockland National Bank have agreed to join the "Reds."

An interesting souvenir presented to The Courier-Gazette by Assistant Engineer Joseph B. Beaton of the Collier, P. Jones is on exhibition at Hill's Drug Store. It is a life preserver thrown overboard from the Cruiser San Diego, after that craft had been sunk by a mine or submarine. Lifeboats from the Collier Jones saved 28 of the San Diego's survivors.

The New York Morning Telegraph of July 15 had this item about a talented Rockland girl: "Now that Dorothy Jordan has received an offer from the Chicago Grand Opera Company and the Ponzillo Sisters of vaudeville have been selected for the Metropolitan, the lovers of music have turned their eyes toward Lotte McLaughlin, who at Sunday's, Rockland's and Boston's has been a soloist. Miss McLaughlin will make her grand opera debut in 'Il Trovatore' in Chicago during the coming winter and will also be heard in 'La Traviata.' Miss McLaughlin is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. McLaughlin of Walker place, and the home folks are looking forward to a visit from her the coming month.

Do dogs ever become homesick? A denoted answer in the affirmative is furnished by "Rover," the intelligent canine owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hurd of Ash Point. "Rover" was farmed out for the summer on a small island which rejoices in the picturesque name of Poverty Knob. "Rover" soon solved the problem of what the wild waves are saying and yearning for the affectionate caresses of his benefactors on the mainland. Mrs. Hurd was also homesick without the dog. Consequently there was no spanking forthcoming when she opened the door the other morning and in pounced "Rover," dripping wet from a three-mile swim, which was broken by a single resting place. A breakfast which made Rover's eyes and ribs slick out took the place of the whipping which most disobedient dogs would have received.

The annual dinner of the Security Trust Co. officers and employees took place at the Fiske House, Damariscotta, Tuesday evening, motor cars conveying thirty-four persons who were privileged to take part in the discussion of a tempting bill of fare. A specially enjoyable feature was an informal after-dinner address by Arthur B. Richardson, a former member of the bank's staff, in which he interestingly told of his past three years' experience in Russia. Those at table were Maynard S. Bird, H. N. McLaughlin, Jarvis G. Perry, James M. Kallach, Nelson B. Cobb, Henry B. Bird, W. O. Fuller, Cornelius Doherty, J. A. Jameson, M. B. Perry, A. B. Richardson, M. P. Pillsbury, L. S. Leach, Elizabeth Jameson, Alice Davis, Mary McCarty, J. W. Hupper, W. D. Hall, W. O. Vinal, G. W. Walker, W. F. Wemyer, Lee Walker, Harry A. Rounds, G. D. Gould, L. W. Sanborn, Ansel Tucker, E. C. Davis, C. R. Libby, Elizabeth Burgess, Augusta Mackey, Katharine Groumet.

Miss Frances Butler has been appointed director of the new department of household arts at Colburn Classical Institute, a position for which she qualified by a special course at Farmington Normal School. Miss Butler has proven an exceptionally capable teacher and the C. C. I. is fortunate in obtaining her services.

P. Connor, designer and construction officer of the Fore River Ship Building Co., while in this city Wednesday on matters relating to a trial trip of a vessel built by that company, was taken severely ill at a local hotel, Dr. J. C. Hill was called. Mr. Connor was improved sufficiently the next morning to return to Boston, being accompanied by Paymaster Stewart of the Fore River Company.

The Liberty Chorus is to meet Sunday afternoon at Oakland Park, provided the day is suitable for out-of-door singing otherwise in the First Baptist church. The soloists will be Miss Carleton Brazer, soprano, and Capt. Sullivan of the Salvation Army, and there will be singing by a Thompson street quartet consisting of Stanley Gushing, Ralph Ayers, George Matthews and William Gilestree. Mr. Matthews, an old-time Thompson street singer, is director of the Liberty Chorus in New Britain, Conn.

DELIGHTED BY CHAUTAUQUA

No Better Series Of Entertainments Ever

Given In Rockland Is the General

Verdict.

Possibly because of their intensely pejorative character, but equally sup-portable on the ground of great merit, the programs of the Community Chautauque are carrying the people of Rockland and vicinity by storm this week. At every performance a delighted crowd has left the big tent at the corner of Union and Limerock streets, and new devotees are sounding the praises of this wonderful entertainment course.

Space today forbids extended mention of the rich musical treats which have been offered, or of the great lectures.

It is universally conceded that the addressors of Dr. Joseph Clark, Albert Edward Wigwam and Ralph Parlette were among the finest ever delivered in this city, and gave the public some new and highly interesting sidelights on the war.

The programs for today and tomorrow

are:

Friday—Band Day—2:30—The famous

Kitties Band of Canada. 8:00—Kitties

Band, with Alfred E. Zealley, conductor;

James Proulx, tenor soloist, and Wae

Janie Muir, dancer.

Saturday—Community Day—4:00—Pageant of Our Allies, by members of the Junior Chautauque. 2:30—Concert.

Walter male quartet; lecture—social.

"Kipling, Master Interpreter of the War Spirit," Wallace Bruce Ambury. An intimate picture of the favorite war time poet. 8:00—Grand farewell musical entertainment. Weber Male Quartet.

The Kitties Band in 1904 had the distinguished honor of playing twice before King Edward VII, by royal command. As a guest of his appreciation

it received from the King the Victoria

Medal and a diamond studded baton.

Aug. 7, 1910, the band returned to America, having finished a world tour covering two years and three months, in which time it visited 29 countries, traveling 85,000 miles and penetrating to many remote corners of the earth.

The Weber Male Quartet has justly earned the title of "the best male quartel in America." Its members are all well known church and concert soloists in New York City. The program is full of interesting novelties some of which have never been presented by any other organization. Their closing concert on the last night of the Chautauque will be an event never to be forgotten.

WITH THE CHURCHES

Rev. Howard A. Welch will be the speaker at the Israelites' Hill chapel

Sunday at 2 o'clock.

the direction of the president, the

THOMASTON

Miss Rose Merrillfield has returned from Frenchboro, Long Island, where she has been visiting school friends. She will leave soon for New Hampshire and Connecticut.

Mrs. H. A. Gleason and daughter Evelyn left Wednesday morning for Frenchboro, where they will spend a week. Miss Evelyn, who has been spending a few weeks here, accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knowlton of Hingham, Mass., who are motoring to Machias, called on Mrs. E. G. Weston, Wednesday.

Mrs. J. E. Walker and Mrs. Rutherford of New York have gone to Phippsburg for a few days.

Watch for the date of the town service flag exercises to be held in Watts hall at an early date.

Mrs. Helen Shibles, Mrs. Belle French and William Benner, who have been spending a few weeks in town, left Wednesday morning for Worcester, Mass.

Robert Davidson entertained friends Monday afternoon in honor of his second birthday. Eight little guests were present, and games were played and refreshments served.

Miss Helen French, who has been spending a few weeks in town, left Wednesday morning for Worcester, Mass.

Mrs. George Mero and her sister Mrs. Joshua Rice of Clifton, Conn., have been spending a week in Boston and Bath.

Mrs. Corley Barry and children and Mrs. Grace Emmons are spending a month with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, at the West End.

Victor Whittier of Boston called on friends in town recently.

Walter O. Hastings returned to Camp Devens Monday after spending a few days furlough at home.

Beginning next Sunday morning at the Methodist church, the first bell will be rung at 9 o'clock, ringing the old custom of ringing a rising bell.

Miss June Andrews entertained friends Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Dorothy Robinson, who was presented with a miscellaneous shaver.

Mrs. T. W. Gals of New York, Mass., arrived in town Wednesday night and is the guest of Mrs. James Feyer.

Miss Maryon Weston directed the Community Chorus at the dedication ceremonies at Utopia Park Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Locke and Mrs. Charles Stevens who have been spending a few weeks with relatives in town returned to Portland Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Webb and Mr. and Mrs. William Howard, and children of Somerville, Mass., are guests of Mrs. Jane Webb.

Donald George left this morning for Camp Devens. His place in J. H. Everett's hardware store is taken by Stanley R. Gushing.

There will be a Red Cross truck drive and every person will be called upon Saturday or Monday by members of the Boy Scouts explaining what they want in the way of broken bits of gold or silver, etc. Then a week later the boys will call for the collections, thus giving everybody a chance in which to pick up any of the articles wanted.

The Boy Scouts who sold over $100 worth of War Savings Stamps a week ago have doubled that amount the past week. Who knows but they may succeed in winning one of the honor flags which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson has offered to the Scout troops in each State for selling the largest amount of stamps?

Charles C. Payson

The death of Charles C. Payson has saddened the hearts of his many friends in Maine and Massachusetts. For he was one of those men, passing in the prime of life and life's activities, who can fill the place of those who cannot well be filled. Mr. Payson was born in Thomaston in 1861, and here lived during his boyhood and young manhood. There are still living many of his neighbors and friends of that time, who cherish memories of the bright, affectionate little boy, who at an early age showed plainly the rare qualities of a nature which all his life drew friends to him and kept them.

Educated in the public schools, he graduated from the high school in the class of 1880. As valedictorian of the class, he showed the ability and genius for work which characterized him and made him the successful business man he later became. The members of the class of 1880 are: Mrs. Emma Gougeon Patterson, Mrs. Sadie Sumner Hinckley of Thomaston, Mrs. Flora Kelleher Oxtrem of San Francisco, Mrs. Stella Townbridge Whitaker of Cambridge, and Miss Alice Gates of Chicago, and they are all numbered among his closest friends.

After a business course at Bryant & Stratton's College, Mr. Payson entered the employ of C. Hunt & Co., Boston, becoming a valued assistant and later a member of the firm. During this time he made his home with his sister, Mrs. Perry of Somerville, who survives him. A few years ago he retired from business and built at Pleasant Point, on the Georges River, a cottage, which he named "Indian Lodge," and where he spent, surrounded by his friends, some of the happiest years of his life. As always, he was the public friend in his new surroundings and among those who mourn him most deeply are the people of Cushing who lived near him and knew him so well during these last years of his life.

Charles Payson was a man of wide sympathies and many interests, an accomplished musician, a keen business man, a true and loyal friend, a kind and tender brother. He was a member of the Congregational church, in which he always manifested an active and generous interest, and he was also a prominent Mason. But it is as the true friend whose place cannot be filled, that he is mourned by all who knew him well.

THE DANGER OF MONEY

Money is dangerous in its spending. A lot of money and no character has ruined many a man. To worship money makes a miser. To be ignorant of its importance is to be a gambler or a spendthrift. To have common sense about money is what is meant by thrift. Money plus wrong character has ruined many. THIRTY NEVER HURT ANYBODY. It has saved many.

KNOX COUNTY'S VALUATION

Will show increase of 15 or 20 per cent the State Board Says—Improved Methods.

The State assessors and Knox county assessors held their annual conference Wednesday in the grand jury rooms. The State Board expressed much satisfaction at the improved methods by which the Knox county assessors fix the valuations, especially with reference to the description of real estate, which they say is essential.

A general increase of from 15 to 20 percent in Knox county's valuation was apparent to the State Board, and a large increase in Maine's total is forecasted.

Under the new law one large manufacturing concern has listed property to the amount of $4,000,000 on which it has not previously paid any taxes. A large proportion of the State's increase in valuation is coming from the State Board.

Mrs. Ellen Crocker, Medium, will be at 28 Elm street from July 22 until further notice, to give reading, diagnosis cases, etc.

The State Assessors, C. S. Stetson of Greene, W. F. Dresser of South Portland and J. J. Dearborn of Newburg, and their secretary, F. H. Sterling of Augusta, had headquarters at Hotel Rockland.

DERUE'S MINSTRELS

Derue's Minstrels, which give performances at Park Theatre next Tuesday afternoon and evening, have planned out big wherever they have been. This is what a Bangor, Penn., newspaper said:

Derue Bros. promised a bigger and a better minstrel show this season. They fulfilled the promise at Music Hall to the delight of a large and representative audience. The show scored a hit from the start and the audience evidenced its appreciation of the various numbers on the program with frequent applause and hearty demands for encores, which were given almost as often as demanded. Never has there appeared a better minstrel show in Bangor than the Derue Bros. presented this season.

The songs were especially pleasing and one of them, a parody on "Billy Sunday," which was sung by "Billy" Derue, scored a big hit. "Bobby" Derue also pleased his many friends and his renditions were enjoyed by William Williams, the musical director of the company, he gave a clever musical act. "Billy" Derue has an interesting personality and speech which he delivers earnestly and effectively.

The end men, Frank Clark and Carl Ritter, also scored. Carl Ritter and his school of eccentric dancers were enthusiastically applauded. Arthur Hodges Russell Quartet pleased. The Golden City Comedy Club, the character impersonator was clever, while Turner Brothers, the comedy actors, convulsed the audience. The other members of the company as a whole sang splendidly together.

Mrs. Albert Cuptill and daughter, Mrs. Garnet of Rockland, Mrs. Edgar Cuptill and two daughters called on Mrs. N. P. Hall Tuesday.

Mrs. C. G. Hoyt is at Mrs. Charles Burke's for a few weeks.

She died in infancy, the other a young man, being drowned in the river here, while engaged in fishing. In early life his health was very poor, many times being so ill that his death was daily feared, and suffered from various troubles. Despite all these afflictions, he was confined to his bed but a few days in front of a moving machine. The machine amputated the lad's left leg at the ankle joint, severed two toes the right foot and two fingers from the left hand. The boy's condition was comfortable as the circumstances met. The boy was also accompanied by his grandfather.

On a visit with friends at Methuen, Dr. Henry Elliott, Miss Ann Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Locke of Salem, Mass., and Mr. Wilkinson of Westley, R. I., who have been at Montpelier for a few weeks, returned to their homes Sunday by auto.
